2011–2012 Distinguished Scholar-Teacher Lecture Series

Wednesday, November 30, 4:00 pm, 1115 Computer Science Instructional Center
AVIS COHEN, Department of Biology, Program in Neuroscience and Cognitive Science
An Interdisciplinary Journey from Lamprey Spinal Cords to Robots

Thursday, October 20, 4:00 pm, 1400 Marie Mount Hall
COLIN PHILLIPS, Department of Linguistics, Program in Neuroscience and Cognitive Science

Thursday, November 17, 4:00 pm, 1410 John S. Toll Physics Building
LAWRENCE WASHINGTON, Department of Mathematics
Cannonballs, Donuts, and Secrets: From Idle Questions to Cryptographic Applications

Wednesday, November 2, 4:00 pm, Frank Auditorium, Van Munching Hall
RITU AGARWAL, Robert H. Smith School of Business
Bits, Bytes, and Potions: The Digital Future of Health and Medicine

It is unlikely that Congress will ever pass that bill.
AVIS COHEN, Department of Biology, Program in Neuroscience and Cognitive Science, and The Institute for Systems Research

Wednesday, November 30, 4:00 pm, 315 Computer Science Instructional Center
An Interdisciplinary Journey from Lamprey Spinal Cords to Robots